

Learning About Leaves

Trees are used to make paper. When one tree is used, more trees are grown in its place.

Cut. Sort. Glue.

A simple leaf consists of one blade. A compound leaf is made up of more than one blade.

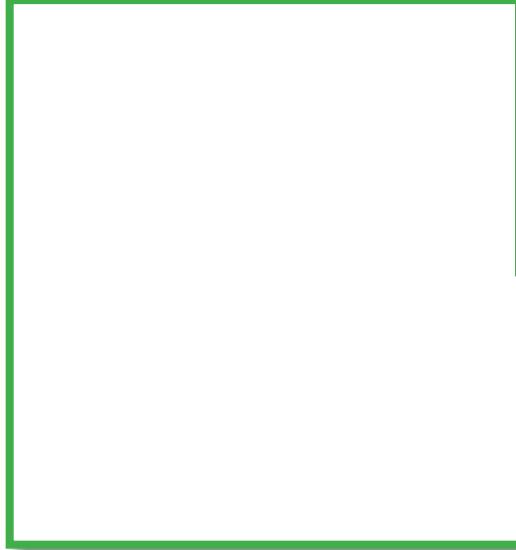

Simple

© Can Stock Photo Inc. / mblach

Compound

© Can Stock Photo Inc. / sruce2638

Write to tell the results of your sort. Use words like more, fewer, most, or fewest. _____

©2013 Domtar. Text and design by The Education Center, LLC.

 horse chestnut <small>© Can Stock Photo Inc. / SlavaK</small>	 tulip tree <small>© Can Stock Photo Inc. / sauletas</small>	 silver maple <small>© Can Stock Photo Inc. / thepoeticimage</small>	 pin cherry <small>© Can Stock Photo Inc. / spaxiax</small>
 paper birch <small>© Can Stock Photo Inc. / stocksnapper</small>	 black locust <small>© Can Stock Photo Inc. / AlexMax</small>	 box elder <small>© Can Stock Photo Inc. / AlexMax</small>	 white oak <small>© Can Stock Photo Inc. / epantha</small>

Note to the teacher: Let Owen the Owl be your guide through the forest as students learn about the role trees play in our lives. Visit TheForestAcademy.com, sponsored by Domtar.

“Learning About Leaves”

Answer Key

Simple

© Can Stock Photo Inc. / mblach

Compound

© Can Stock Photo Inc. / sruce2638

 silver maple © Can Stock Photo Inc. / thepoeticimage	 tulip tree © Can Stock Photo Inc. / sauletas
 white oak © Can Stock Photo Inc. / epantha	 paper birch © Can Stock Photo Inc. / stocksnapper	 pin cherry © Can Stock Photo Inc. / spaxiax

 horse chestnut © Can Stock Photo Inc. / SlavaK	 black locust © Can Stock Photo Inc. / AlexMax
 box elder © Can Stock Photo Inc. / AlexMax	