Everyday adventures can sometimes lead to conflicts. Let Peppa be your guide in teaching little ones gentle life lessons and giving them a leg up on social skills with this game.

Cut apart a copy of the question cards and place them in a bag. Have little ones watch the episode “Horsey Twinkle Toes.” Then review how Peppa and George disagree over using the toy and what to name it but manage to compromise and share in the end. Have a child pull a card from the bag. Read the card aloud. Then have youngsters discuss what they would do in the situation, relating back to the episode whenever helpful. Continue with the remaining cards.

Teaching tip: Refer to the “Horsey Twinkle Toes” episode when conflicts arise in your classroom.

Catch favorite Peppa Pig episodes on Peppa’s Official YouTube channel: youtube.com/peppapig.
A classmate is playing with blocks. You want to play with the blocks too. What could you do?

You are playing with a doll. A friend asks if she can play with the doll. What could you do?

You think it is your turn to go down the slide. A friend thinks that it’s her turn to go down the slide. What could you do?

The teacher tells you that it’s time to let a friend play with the toy you have. You are angry! What is a good way to get rid of the anger?

A classmate is playing all by herself on the playground. What could you do?

Tell me about a disagreement you had when you were playing. What happened?